New Proposal By Vishinsky Being Studied

Proposal May Renew Four-Power Discussions On Germany Is Reported

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, I. N. S.

PARIS, June 13. — The western foreign ministers reportedly studied today a highly-secret Russian proposal that may renew the four-power discussions on Germany.

At the same time, Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky is said to be awaiting instructions on a five-point western program to provide a "face saving" end to the Paris talks.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet proposal was presented to the top diplomats of France, the United States and Britain during a private meeting last night, when the western proposal was outlined to Vishinsky.

Informed sources said that Vishinsky supplied the three western diplomats with a written draft of his plan, while they merely outlined their ideas verbally.

Although all parties were pledged to secrecy on the Russian proposal, one delegate said it may give the Paris talks—threatened with a deadlock—a new lease on life.

The Russian plan reportedly deals with the German problem as a whole and may reopen discussions on basic issues as such as the political unity of Germany.

Western experts spent hours analyzing the proposal.

The U. S.-British-French plan was reportedly worked out during a series of meetings.

Gen. MacArthur Says Reds Inciting Violence

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, June 13.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur accused Russia today of inciting "unruly minority elements in Japan to violence."

The allied supreme commander said Russian Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko's recent protest against Japanese police suppression of rioting at Tokyo's city hall unmasked the "Soviet role as the inciter of disorder and violence in the otherwise orderly Japanese society."

MacArthur charged that Derevyanko's objective was "to incite irresponsible and unruly minority elements in Japan to violence and disorderly resistance against the duly constituted government."

The occupation chief further alleged that Derevyanko sought "to screen the Soviet's unconscionable failure to abide by the requirements of international law and the specific Potsdam commitments in

Find Grove City Couple Suicides

Bodies Of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutton Found In Automobile On Sunday

NO MOTIVE FOR ACT IS FOUND

GROVE CITY, June 13.—No motive has as yet been found for the suicide of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutton, middle-aged Grove City couple, whose bodies were found slumped in the front seat of their auto in the garage at their home at 11 o'clock Sunday.

Dr. Donald Wonseller, deputy coroner after investigating the circumstances, rendered a verdict of suicide, which he stated occurred late Thursday night.

Discovery Made

Their bodies were discovered by J. L. Graham, with whom the Luttons lived at 204 Hillcrest Circle. He thought at first the couple had gone away for the weekend. He smashed the lock on the garage door Sunday morning and found the lifeless bodies, after he had become suspicious about their absence. A garden hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe of the car, and run through a window of the auto. The gas tank was found empty.

Mrs. Lutton was the former Mary Egbert of Sandy Lake. Arrangements were being made today for their funeral.

Police searched the car and the rooms of the couple for a note, but were unable to find one, and the cause of their rash act still remained a mystery today.

Plane Disaster Kills Two, Injures Three In Japan

Eleven Planes Are Also Destroyed Result Of Collision And Crash

MISAWA, Japan, June 13.—(INS)—Two U. S. air force officers were killed today in a multiple mid-air and ground collision involving 14 fighter planes at Misawa air base.

An air force announcement stated: "The accident occurred during an aerial exercise when two F-51's from Misawa air base collided with a flight of four F-51's from Johnson air base, Tokyo, at an altitude of 1,500 feet."

The wing of one of these fighters was torn off and the plane crashed onto the ramp of the airfield, killing its pilot. The plane then careened into a line of parked fighters, causing a fire and explosion that destroyed 11 of the planes and injured three mechanics.

Another of the planes involved in the freak mid-air accident crashed near Misawa. The others landed safely.

Names of the two pilots killed were withheld, pending notification of kin.

CHICAGO, June 13.—(INS)—Six months ago Mrs. Athilda Larkin's husband disappeared.

Mrs. Larkin of Suburban Bloer Island said her husband had felt that he was "tied down" since the triplets were born. She added: "But I didn't take him seriously when he went to work that Saturday morning six months ago."

Joseph Earl Rhodes Of New Brighton, Meets Death Saturday Evening

RESCUE SQUAD RECOVERS BODY

Joseph Earl Rhodes, aged 24 years, of 1343 Second street, New Brighton, was the season's first drowning victim in Lawrence County, meeting his death in the waters of the Connoquenessing at Ellwood City, about 6:30 o'clock, Saturday evening.

Mr. Rhodes with his wife, and another couple, had gone for a picnic in Ewing Park, and decided to go swimming. He dove into the water and swam across the creek, when he was observed to struggle for a moment and then go down.

Members of the Rescue Squad of the Ellwood City fire department were summoned, and recovered the body in about half an hour, out efforts to restore life from artificial respiration proved futile. Deputy Coroner Russell C. Melvin, who was summoned to the scene stated.

The victim's body was removed to New Brighton to be prepared for burial.

Trieste Election Expected To Favor Return To Italy

TRIESTE, June 13.—(INS)—Counting of the ballots in Trieste's first free elections in 27 years began early today, with the results expected to favor return of the powder-keg city to Italy.

No violence was reported in the voting for a new city council which took place yesterday. Allied officials reported that 167,500 of the free city's 182,000 eligible voters—92 per cent—cast ballots.

Candidates of the pro-Italian parties—except the Communists—all favored a return of the vital Adriatic port to Italy.

Of the 12 parties which entered lists, seven were pro-Italian, including the strong Christian Democrats, three favored an independent territory, and two were in favor of ties with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

The balloting produced a split in Communist ranks—with the Yugoslavs favoring Tito, and the Italians favoring the Stalin version of Communism.

Hoffman Seeks To Prevent Cut In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Foreign Aid Administrator Paul Hoffman will try to convince Congress today that a billion dollar cut in Marshall plan funds would "wreck" the European recovery program.

A detailed analysis of the impact of proposed savings on the American economy has been prepared by Hoffman for the Senate appropriations committee.

New Coal Strike Gets Under Way At Lewis' Order

Nearly Half Million Miners Quit Work For Current Week

REPORT COAL FIELDS ARE QUIET

By TROY GORDON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, June 13.—A new coal strike rolled off to a smooth and uneventful start today as part of John L. Lewis' strategy for obtaining a new mine wage contract.

Nearly half a million anthracite and bituminous miners in a score of coal-producing states laid down their tools in obedience to Lewis' command to take a week's holiday.

The coal fields were quiet as the well-disciplined United Mine Workers Union again displayed its power. The miners just fished, stayed home and dug in their gardens or went into town.

The stoppage is supposed to end next Monday. Many miners may not return to work on that date, however, because their ten-day paid vacation begins five days later on June 25. Midway in the vacation period the current coal contract expires—June 30.

Ordered By Lewis

This week's shutdown was ordered by Lewis to "stabilize" the over-produced coal industry by cutting the excessive stockpiles of coal.

President Truman said the walk-out was aimed at putting the union leader in a better bargaining position in his battle with the operators for a 1949 wage agreement.

Mine owners denounced the stoppage both as a violation of the Taft-Hartley law and the existing coal contract.

U. S. Bureau of Mines experts declared that a one-week shutdown (Continued on Page Two)

Call On Truman To Cut Down On U.S. Expenditures

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(INS)—The Senate Expenditures Committee today approved, 9 to 2, a resolution calling on President Truman to cut government expenditures from five to ten per cent during the 1950 fiscal year.

Sen. McClellan (D) Ark., said he expected to introduce the resolution on the Senate floor today. He estimated the saving would be "somewhere between two billions and four billions" during 1950. McClellan said:

"I believe there is plenty sentiment for the general objectives of this resolution to pretty well insure prompt action in the senate."

The resolution written by the committee is designed to take the place of a variety of proposals by individual Senators to impose a definite ceiling on federal spending during 1950 in an effort to balance the budget without imposing a new tax.

The resolution would apply only to the executive departments, not legislative or judiciary. The President, under the resolution, is directed to pare spending from five to ten per cent wherever possible.

A little sun a little rain, and stand back for the corn to grow, a little hoeing, a little care, and the spuds that are built for corn, are the days that are built for corn, and the spuds and the long string beans, and radishes and tomato plants and the wealth of the garden greens. High School Students Get Recognition For Outstanding Work In Latin

Medals were issued to the top-ranking seniors for outstanding work in Latin at the senior high school during the year just ended.

Certificates attesting high merit were presented to juniors and sophomores. As usual the honors were assigned on the basis of a series of objective tests given on a number of occasions. A student's final status was determined by his average of ranking taken from the separate rank he received in each of the tests in the series.

Those who finished their year's work with the rank of Summa Cum Laude were: 12th year, Nancy Hinrich; 11th year, John Bakuhin; 10th year, Viennabelle Prioletti. Magna Cum Laude students were: 12th year, Donald Weisbaker; and 10th year, Norma Jones.

Cum Laude awards went to Dolores Weidner of the 12th year; 11th year, Miriam Blau and Allan Warnath; and 10th year, Lucy de Vincentis, Peter Rosenberger, Virginia Rogers, Mary Ball, Edwin Lewis, Clara Cwynar, Stanley Wrona, Ruth Hughes, Daniel Nixon, Barbara Cowher, James Deegan, Bruce Semer, James Shira and Joseph Garzewski.

All students in this list who are not already members of Senatus Romanus, the honorary club of the department, become eligible for membership in the coming school year. Several excellent tenth year students who have not won technical "honors" at this time, but who have elected to continue with the advanced work in Latin offered in our high school, will be chosen by their classmates as "conscript" members. All Vergil students with honor grades in the Cicero year, become eligible for membership as "socii".

The handsome golden bronze medals received by the 12th year students with "honors" in Latin show the classic lamp of knowledge, a laurel spray for victory, a student's pen, and the letters "N.C.H.S.". The letters are to remind the recipient of his days in New Castle. Appropriate engraving on the reverse side, indicates the rank, the date of graduation, and the student's initials. For a period of over twenty-five years, these medals have been granted every year and, doubtless, the owners still hold them when they have not been lost, as treasured mementos.

PITTSBURGH, June 11.—(INS)—Frank Chesley, 49-year-old Cincinnati furniture salesman, was recuperating in the hospital today, the alleged victim of a beating and robbery at Pittsburgh's most prominent hotel.

His trussed and unconscious body was found in a sixth floor room of a prominent hotel by his brother, David, 40, of Brookline, Mass., and a fellow salesman, Joseph Martin of Pittsburgh, a few minutes after the attack and robbery yesterday afternoon.

The three men represent the Charleton Company of Pittsburgh, Mass.

Chesley said he had been slugged twice and robbed of $95 by two men who put a pistol against his back as he was opening his room door to get his suitcase.

Pittsburgh police said today they had not been notified of the robbery and beating until asked about it by newspapermen. An assistant manager at the hotel claimed he knew nothing of such an incident.

Berlin Strikers Urged To Accept Settlement Plan

BERLIN, June 13.—(INS)—All four occupying powers and German officials today urged 18,000 striking West Berlin railmen to accept a compromise settlement to end "the little blockade."

The plan, drawn up over the week-end by western and Soviet authorities was snubbed yesterday by 600 district leaders of the strikers, who referred it to the rank-and-file membership for a vote tomorrow.

Should the West Berlin strikers accept the proposal as expected, train traffic to and from western Germany to Berlin will resume on Wednesday.

Plan Provisions
As drawn up by U. S. Commandant Brig. Frank L. Howley and Soviet officials, the plan calls for 75 per cent payment of the workers' salaries in western-issued marks. The employees had been asking 100 per cent payment. The Russian-controlled rail directorate had previously offered 60 per cent and been turned down.

The plan also provides that there will be no Soviet reprisals against the strikers, who quit their jobs May 20, and whose action, coupled with Soviet retaliatory moves, paralyzed train traffic just a week after the Russian blockade ended.

In the course of the three-week walkout, two Germans were killed and thousands injured in fierce clashes between strikers, Soviet troops and East German police.

Permit Granted For Some Overhead Traffic Lights

State traffic engineer, Harrisburg, today granted sanction to the city to install overhead traffic lights here.

The city intends to install one at South Mill street, and Croton avenue, to operate in unison with the South Mill street, Grove street light.

The other may be erected at Lawrence and South Jefferson street.

Under state regulations the city is prohibited from installing lights without sanction of the state traffic engineer.

However, an amendment to a state act, now allows a city to erect the type of traffic signal, it desires, either on the curb or above the center of a highway.

curtailment of Marshall plan spending next year can not be avoided.

The House reduced the administration estimate to four billion 642 million dollars for 1950, including three billion 568 million to be used in the 1950 fiscal year, beginning July 1.

A billion dollar cut in the 1950 total, first proposed by Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., is being advocated also by Sen. McKellar (R) Tenn., the committee chairman.

They would leave intact a supplemental ERP appropriation of one billion 74 million dollars for April, May and June of this year, and slash next year's total to approximately two and a half billion dollars.

president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., U. S. Steel's coal producing subsidiary.

The corporation employs approximately 20,000 miners in so-called "captive" pits producing fuel for its steel mill. Any agreement reached, however, could quickly become the pattern for the entire coal industry.

The "captive pit" talks involve miners in five states—Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Alabama and Utah.

The diggers, all employed in U. S. Steel mines, produced about 27 million tons of coal last year for use in steel production.

Ask About Repatriations
A few hours after MacArthur's statement was released, the Japanese foreign office requested occupation headquarters for information on when repatriations of Japanese prisoners for Soviet areas may be expected to be resumed.

The foreign office pointed out that navigational conditions have been favorable to repatriation trips since May 1 but that the return of Japanese prisoners has been "delayed more than one month, causing apprehension and anxiety among Japanese."

MacArthur declared that Russia's failure to repatriate the remaining Japanese captives was "calculated so to outrage sensibilities that even the Japanese Communists have been moved to register bitter and indignant protests."

down of the mines would have little "stabilizing" effect on the coal industry.

The stoppage will cost the country about ten million tons of new coal production and will force the withdrawal of approximately eight million tons from existing stockpiles. Consumption of coal has been running at a rate of about one million 300 thousand tons daily.

However, Bureau of Mines officials estimated present coal stocks at approximately sixty five million tons. Operators said there is a 56-day industrial supply of coal on hand.

Pa Newc Observes

residents of that district. The storm was soon spent and little damage resulted. New Castle received only a light rain for a short while.

An amazed spectator reports to Pa Newc that a girl was seen taking a sun bath yesterday on the sloping porch roof of a North Hill home, occupying a very precarious position on the roof.

District pools and streams were well populated once again over the week-end as bathers sought to escape the hot humid weather which settled down over the area. Motorists also took to the highways in large numbers in their effort to secure some cooling breezes.

Janitors of the various schools of the city and county began their annual task of housecleaning and painting today in most of the schools. Desks and woodwork in many of the buildings will receive shiny coats of varnish, while other repairs are to be made in the school houses. In cost cases on major changes are contemplated.

Mrs. Lola M. Harris, superintendent at the Almira Home, reports that bees swarmed around the second and third door of the fire escape on the west side of the home on Saturday and settled on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Harris called Frank Young of Castlewood, who has many hives of bees. He arrived about 4:30, bringing a hive along; he sent smoke among the bees, and the colony followed the queen into the hive. Mr. Young returned Sunday evening and took the hive and bees along. He says there must have been a gallon of the little fellows. The ladies of the home were thrilled watching the whole transaction.

Burglars Loot Walmo Residence

Residence of Mrs. Viola Sadler, Orchard way, Walmo, was burglarized Saturday night of a considerable number of articles. Included among the articles stolen were a portable typewriter, portable sewing machine, camera, rings and a watch, according to state police, who investigated the theft.

MAN CUTS THUMB

Gerard Lam, aged 23 years, of 125 West Lincoln avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2 p. m. Sunday for a laceration of the right thumb, received when he dropped a milk bottle, which broke.

which consisted of Chairman Anthony Marino and Carm Sacco, and Al Scarazzo, D. D. Valensi, Dr. J. P. Pioletti, William Mooney, Joseph Frenzel, William DeCarbo, William Russo, of this city, and Ralph Lee, P. R. ticket agent of the E. & A. division, Youngstown. Throughout the trip to and from Cleveland, Al Scarazzo proved a perfect and congenial host. The various committees saw to it, everything was pleasant, both going and coming.

The Red Cross musicians divided into two groups and serenaded the fans and fanettes in each of the coaches, and during the game in the Cleveland stadium, played number after number, which was pleasing, not only to the New Castle aggregation, but also to visitors from other cities at the game.

The train left here about 10 a. m. and arrived before noon, and the return trip, started at 8:30 p. m. and arrived here before 11 p. m.

Much of the success of the day's activities was due to the work of Anthony Marino and Carm Sacco who have been arranging since last October for the trip. Not a slip-up occurred, and it was a tired, but happy throng which wended its way homeward last night, with the anticipation of seeing the Red Sox and Indians clash August 28.

CHILD IS BURNED

William Falk, aged two and a half years, of 18 West Moody avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital Saturday evening for first and second degree burns of the right arm. The little fellow was injured when he pulled a pan containing hot grease from the stove.

Dr. E. A. Crooks Closes Pastorate

Reformed Presbyterian Church
Pastor Preaches Farewell
Sermon Sunday

Dr. E. A. Crooks preached his farewell sermon Sunday morning at the Reformed Presbyterian church, telling of pleasant associations with members of the congregation. Dr. Crooks served two pastorates at the local church, the first one for nearly 20 years. After a lapse of seven years, he was again called as pastor, serving for five and one-half years.

There was a good attendance at his farewell service, when Dr. Crooks also gave a report of the one hundred twenty-second synod meeting of the Reformed Presbyterian church at Winona Lake, Ind. A reception has been planned for Tuesday evening, June 28, at the local church for Dr. and Mrs. Crooks who will reside in Orlando, Fla.

At the close of Bible school Sunday morning a service in memory of Mrs. J. M. Blackwood, who died June 6, was conducted. Mrs. Blackwood was an active member of the Reformed Presbyterian church.

Husband Defended By Mrs. Chambers In New York Trial

NEW YORK, June 13.—(INS)—Mrs. Esther Chambers flared like a tigress under a blistering cross examination at the Alger Hiss perjury trial today and defended her husband, Whitaker Chambers, as "a decent citizen and a great man." Disregarding her calm demeanor, the mild little farm wife who milks 18 cows a day on the Chambers place at Westminster, Md., let herself go when Defense Attorney Lloyd Paul Stryker referred to her husband as "a sneaking Communist conspirator."

"I resent that," the pale-faced Mrs. Chambers shouted, tugging at her steel-rimmed glasses. "My husband is a decent citizen and a great man."

Chambers, on the stand last week, accused Hiss of procuring secret State department documents for him in 1938 for transmission to a Communist spy ring. This charge Hiss denies.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The British Labor party, girding for hoped-for victory in general elections scheduled for next year, faces a major test with a railway workers' strike threatening to extend throughout the nation. As in most British Labor disputes, this one has peculiar and contradictory aspects and a means to solution remains obscure.

Refuse To Work Sundays

For the past three weeks, railway workers in east and northeast Britain have refused to man their trains for Sunday runs. They are demanding a wage increase of approximately $2.00 a week and a revision of schedules to obviate the necessity of their remaining away from home one night a week.

One strange aspect is that the strike is against the government of Prime Minister Clementine Churchill, for whom the railway-men presumably voted when Winston Churchill was turned out of office in 1945.

For British railways are government controlled. Their nationalization was the first major step taken along this line by the Labor regime, and was supposed to have set the pattern and example for expanding Socialism.

Another strange thing is that the Sunday strikes automatically deprive millions of English people of the week-end jaunts of which they were deprived completely during the long bitter war years.

Gasoline is still strictly rationed in England and prohibitively expensive. Except for the ending of the blackout, nothing was greeted with greater joy in England after the war ended than restoration of normal railway service.

Every week-end found millions of Londoners and residents of other large cities pouring out into the countryside. People pined in their homes and factories for a half decade rediscovered the boardwalk at Brighton, the merry-go-rounds at Margate and the beauties of Torquay and Penzance.

But for the past three weeks, those lacking their own cars have been forced to depend upon buses for short trips or rescue a wartime bicycle from the cellar. There is virtually nothing that can keep a Londoner out of the countryside on a sunny June day.

Punish Working Classes
The railwaymen realize this, of course, and undoubtedly regret that their strike measures are punishing so many persons of the same working class as themselves.

Their deliberate choice of Sundays, therefore, seem to be aimed at focusing public attention on their demands. This also has the indirect effect of condemning the government's management of the railways, a manifestation that cannot help but please the Conservatives. The railwaymen are at Liverpool.

This has tied up some 50 cargo ships, many of them loaded with perishable foodstuffs. Here again the workmen are making things hard for persons of their own class. Food supplies still are far below normal in England and every ton of eatables that is lost means some definite microscopic

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Isn't life the craziest darn thing? Will any one of us ever be able to understand what it is all about?

Here I was in the midst of that almost unbelievable Cinderella story of Rita Hayworth's marriage to the Ali Khan.

Here was a dream come true. No, it was more than a dream come true.

Eduardo Cansino, her father, and his wife, Volga, never dared to dream that their daughter would some day live in a palace; would some day be showered with diamonds and rubies; would some day have more money, more glamour, more fame than any parents ever dared to dream for their child.

Here was everything that any little girl or any big girl could ever wish for herself upon a star.

Here was the epitome of life. Here was everything that all the fairies together could possibly bestow upon a human being.

POLICY HUNT

Before the Chinese Communists took Shanghai, ECA aid was keeping it going. Now they have the job of trying to assure adequate supplies of rice, cotton and fuel to the largest city in continental Eurasia, the industrial metropolis of the Far East.

The people of Shanghai, relieved at first because Communist forces entering the city behaved so much better than the Japanese invaders, will soon get restless if they lack rice to eat and the city's industries have no fuel or raw materials. The Communists, judging from their behavior in other cities, will begin to act tougher as the pressure increases.

Meanwhile the foreign ministers of Britain and France and this country's secretary of state, in between sessions with Russia on the German problem, are trying to work out the beginnings of a joint policy for Asia. Schuman and Bevin are reported to have urged Acheson not to get tough with the Chinese Communists until "the rust settles."

Britain is strengthening the defenses of Hong Kong, with special attention to weaknesses that helped the Japs take the city. Rice is being stockpiled, additional troops are being brought in, and pipelines have been added to assure an adequate water supply.

But the West still shows few signs of having a clear policy toward China and the Far East. It may be that the West can get along without one, if the troubles the Communists are having in Shanghai prove difficult to solve. But it would be foolish to count on that.

Missouri has refused to adopt "Missouri Waltz" as the state song in honor of President Truman. Might consider "St. Louis Blues" or even "All Alone."

Put Army To Work
Attlee has announced he will put the army to work unloading ships unless the dock strike is ended, just as he did when stevedores struck in London some months ago.

Presumably, he also can militarize the railways. But Socialist governments naturally are extremely hesitant to take strikebreaking actions which they identify with tactics of Conservatives and capitalists so the joint problem facing Attlee and his colleagues is a vexing one indeed.

The manner in which he deals with it may prove to be of tremendous importance in the coming elections. If he merely bows to the wage and hour demands, he will be accused of paternalism. If he invokes the army, he will alienate thousands who dislike any show of force.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN NOW FOR LATER HAPPINESS

Begin with the baby to educate for marriage and parenthood. In order to do this well his parents need to set before him good examples of marriage and parenthood. According to the published studies on marriage, those couples who come from happy families excel in marital happiness and permanence.

Every thing we discuss in this column bears directly or indirectly on education for marriage. Some years ago, near the end of one of my courses for parents at Western Reserve University a keen mother said, "We have been considering in this course how to bring up our children to be happy, likable persons and useful citizens. Aren't we really trying to learn how to bring up our children to be good wives and husbands and good fathers and mothers?" She had the right idea.

Respect For Others
Take the matter of teaching the child from his early years respect for the rights of others ("How To Teach To Mean of No," to be had in a stamped envelope). Isn't early control from without the foundation of self-control in the child as he grows older? How, indeed, is an adult to have self-control and respect for the sacredness of personality in a spouse, who has not been taught proper restraints in infancy and childhood? A wife or husband who has always had her or his own way naturally expects doing so, when marital conflicts and incompatibilities are inevitable.

In an ideal marriage each partner constantly exercises self-control, self-discipline, even self-denial in consideration of the rights and feelings of the other as a person. The trouble is that one person of the married couple so often expects the other person to make all the adjustments; and, according to research again, more often than not it is the wife who is expected to make these adjustments.

Related to the foregoing is the whole problem of human selfishness. All parents wish their children to grow up unselfish. Unfortunately if these children see unselfishness in their parents. But they tend to grow more selfish as they are on the receiving end of the

The Republican educator who was listed as a communist has cause to be indignant. It's bad enough to be a Republican these days.

In fact if you ask a fellow if he is a Republican he says "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it might incriminate and degrade me."

You can't even get Dewey to admit that he voted for Dewey.

And maybe the following will be of interest:

HOW TO INVITE A DEPRESSION

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing so he had no radio.

He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspaper.

But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened . . .

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?"

There's a big depression on.

The European situation is terrible.

The Domestic situation is worse.

Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son's been to college. He reads the papers and he listens to the radio. He ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders.

And no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right son," the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

The moral of that story is simple . . . don't talk yourself or your customer into a depression.

So This Is!

Going To Belgian Congo

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

If it is possible for a man to have four jokers in his mental deck, then I have them.

I am convinced of this, and when I finish this column I am going out to shop for a nice, cool cut-on-the-bias, summer-weight straight jacket for myself.

Let me explain, while I am still partially lucid:

Yesterday I read a magazine article about pygmies.

Today, high in New York's Chrysler Building, I booked a trip on Pan American World Airways which will take me to the Belgian Congo, the home of the pygmies.

Must See Pygmies

Now why in the world did I do that? Don't ask me. I don't know. I have lived 42 years without pygmies, and all of a sudden I feel that I must meet some of the little fellows. If pygmies were to be found as close, say as Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, or Dallas. But I am going on the way to Leopoldville, which is an overnight trip from New York on the map alone, to watch pygmies skip and prance in the jungle.

Why couldn't I have felt an urge to meet some Three-Eye League baseball players, or some St. Louis barbers, or some Boston street sweepers? I could have gone and seen them and have been back home in a week, but this trip I've arranged won't get me home until it is almost time to hang up my stockings for Santa Claus to fill.

Take Off Early in July

I'm taking off early in July, and the first town I will horrify will be Lisbon. I understand that Lisbon is just about the most expensive city in the world today, and that a man is lucky if he can get on fifty American dollars a day.

As my budget for the entire trip is scarcely more than that, I have been trying to figure out how I could afford to stay in Lisbon more than 13 minutes, and I think I have the perfect plan.

Lisbon, as you doubtless know, is the world's center of espionage, so I am going to pose as an American, high in atomic bomb circles, and get foreign agents to wine and dine me in the hope of extracting a secret or two from me.

I shall register at Lisbon's leading hotel under the name of Professor Henry Plutonium McLeomore, and give my address as Oak Ridge, Tennessee. And when dining and winning in the most plush cafes, I shall continually refer to B-36, B-39, the B-1 vitamin and all other B's imaginable. I trust all foreign agents who seek me out will be well-heeled and ready to spend freely on the glibby "American Professor."

Then Go To Dakar

From Lisbon I go to Dakar, then to Leopoldville and my pygmy friends, then to Johannesburg, where I hope to root around in those diamond mines and pick myself up a pocketful of carats. After wearing out my welcome in South Africa, I hop to Madrid, where I hope an offer to fight a few bulls will bring me in enough money to continue on to Rome, Florence and Paris.

I have never fought a bull, but between now and my departure I am going to take up the art of being a matador. No, I am not fooling enough to start right off practicing on a real grown-up bull. I am going to start learning by wading.

ing a cape at a small animal—something like a dachshund. They tell me that an agry dachshund is very fierce, and I hope by working with one I will learn in miniature, so to speak, how to handle larger animals.

After the dachshund, I will take on a bulldog, and after the bulldog, a Shetland pony, and after the Shetland pony a cow. By the time I get to Madrid, I should be ready to enter the arena with perfect confidence—confident that the crowd will be bored to death while I'm being gored to death.

I have made no plans for Rome or Paris because I know what is going to happen to me there. I am going to run over and trampled by 25,000 American school teachers spending a "leisurely" two or three weeks abroad.

I promise to bring every single one of my readers a souvenir. If any of you want a pygmy, let me know the size you want. Frankly, I believe the best all-round size is two-foot-two, eyes of blue. But, of course, your taste in pygmies may not be the same as mine.

JOB UPON A TIME

CATHERINE, 2nd, of Russia was one of the most noted rulers in history. Born in Stettin, Germany, May 2, 1729, she was married to the Emperor of Russia in 1745. She and her husband didn't agree, and she was banished to a separate abode, but a conspiracy dethroned her royal spouse. She was named empress. Shortly thereafter the husband was murdered. She had many lovers, but was, nevertheless, a woman of great ability, and her government was based on the great energy and power of the country were greatly increased under her. When discontent manifested itself, her young son, who headed the disaffected, was found murdered. A stroke of apoplexy cut her down on Nov. 17, 1796.

CHARLES DANA GIBSON created a rage for tall, square-shouldered athletic-looking young women in the 1890's, the type being named for him. He was born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 14, 1867, married one of a famous Virginia family of beauties—one of the Langhorne sisters. He illustrated numerous magazines and books, also published books of his own drawings. He was named to the National Academy in 1932, and died Dec. 23, 1944.

Shameful Servility Seen

WASHINGTON, June 13. A MORE unpleasant exhibition of political servility than that of the Democratic leaders in Congress last week would be hard to imagine. It was an utterly unbecoming performance, too—right out in the open. Strangely, it got slight newspaper attention.

REFERENCE is to the extraordinary manner in which, after the unctuous Mr. Philip Murray, head of the CIO, cracked the whip over their backs, these Democratic leaders cravenly swung away from the position they had assumed and obsequiously chorused, in effect, "Yes, Mr. Murray." "Yes, indeed, Mr. Murray." "You are perfectly right, Mr. Murray." "We are in complete accord with you, Mr. Murray." Previously they had given every evidence of not being in the least accord with Mr. Murray. On the contrary, they had publicly promulgated the view that most of Mr. Truman's fantastic "Fair Deal" program was doomed so far as this session is concerned.

PUBLICLY, Mr. Truman rejected this notion—though there is reason to believe he privately accepted its truth. He piously hoped at a press conference that most of his proposals would be enacted before adjournment. Paying slight attention to this, Administration leaders declared that only the North Atlantic pact, the reciprocal trade agreements and the Taft-Hartley repeal could be acted upon at this session. Everything else would have to go over until next fall. Adjournment would be not later than July 31. That was the way things stood up to May 31. On that day, speaking as one with authority, Mr. Murray sternly rebuked the Democratic leadership. He abruptly ordered it to halt its "drift toward congressional inaction." He called upon it for a "forthright statement" of its purpose to stay in session "until substantial sections" of the "Fair Deal" program are enacted. He sneered at the "reputation" of the Eighty-first Congress and sharply criticized its leaders.

THE immediate result was a stampede to reverse themselves. Mr. Murray's May 31 statement was in letters to Senate Leader Scott Lucas and House Leader John McCormack. On June 1, Mr. McCormack replied to Mr. Murray substantially as follows: "I am in receipt of your letter and there is nothing in it with which I am not in full agreement." With equal speed, Senator Lucas replied that much of what Mr. Murray demanded had already passed the Senate (which is not at all accurate) and that it was the House that lagged. If, however, he said, "it is impossible to pass the major measures demanded by July 31, we will extend the time for adjournment."

OTHER leaders followed with similar stultifying declarations. Literally, over night their attitude changed. But the realities of course have not changed. It is just as true as before that the bulk of Mr. Truman's domestic program will not go through at this session—first, because sentiment in the country does not favor it; second, because a majority of Congress is opposed. Mr. Murray, with his solemn mandate has not changed a single vote in Congress but he has accomplished two things. For one, he compelled the Democratic leadership publicly to put on a show of shameful subservience such as has not been seen in our politics before. Of course, since 1936 the Democrats, nationally, have been allied with the CIO and acquiesced in its claim of being indispensable to Democratic success. But, previously, there had been no uncamouflaged admission that they took orders from it.

THAT is exactly what the party leaders have done this time. A considerable number of their followers are humiliated. It is one thing, they say, to play politics with the CIO; it is quite another to submit openly to CIO dictation. The second thing Mr. Murray has accomplished is to postpone Senate action on the terribly important North Atlantic pact, for which Secretary of State Acheson and General Marshall have earnestly appealed. Until he cracked the whip and the leaders jumped through his hoop, the pact had the right of way in the Senate. Due to the unselfish patriotism of Mr. Murray and the whole nature of the Democratic leaders it has now lost priority and the Taft-Hartley repeal proposal has taken its place. This may mean weeks of labor-bill debate before the pact can be taken up at all. At a very critical moment this has weakened our hand at the Paris conference. In his statement Mr. Murray mentioned practically everything else but significantly said no word for the pact, perhaps the most vital of all Administration measures.

THE pathetic feature of this mortifying Democratic performance is that it is so completely unnecessary. Fear of Mr. Murray is so completely unfounded. As proven in the last campaign (in which the CIO pledged itself to drive out of public life every candidate for Congress who had supported the Taft-Hartley bill), he is totally unable to deliver his own votes. The claims of his organization are demonstrably absurd. As shown by the 1948 Dunn surveys in some states and many district CIO support is more a liability than an asset. It adds all up to make Democratic leaders in Congress seem a particularly pusillanimous lot of rabbits.

SOUL AND BODY

Sometimes we get so interested in the care of the body that we seem to forget about the soul.

A body without a soul is not worth very much.

It is interesting to learn about bones and muscles and glands and cancers and serums and taints and insomnia.

A lot of time is spent studying about hygiene and sanitation. If there were no soul, all of these things would lose their importance.

Improving our bodies and neglecting our souls will not get us very far.

Symphony Orchestra Plans Pop Concerts

Rehearsals Under Way For Two Open Air Programs To Be Given At Taggart Stadium

New Castle Symphony association announces another "first." Two "pop" concerts will be given at Taggart Stadium by the New Castle Symphony orchestra under the direction of Anthony Casero Wednesday, July 27, and Wednesday, August 31, at 8 o'clock.

Seventy members of the orchestra are now hard at work on weekly rehearsals at the Ben Franklin school preparing a completely new program for each concert.

Public reaction to the two previous concerts by the local organization indicates that New Castle wants more good symphonic music. An open air concert under the stars with a splendid variety of pop arrangements seem to be the ideal way of meeting those desires.

Because of the interpretation, intonation and shading required in a successful symphonic arrangement, the undertaking will require a great deal of work on the part of the volunteer members of the organization.

A souvenir program carrying a short musical history of each member of the orchestra will be published by the association for the pop concerts.

Citizens of New Castle will be given an opportunity to participate in the souvenir programs as well as attend the concerts at popular prices.

line. My constant warning that children should not be given so many material things and should learn from early infancy that they can't always have what they want when they want it has, obviously, a direct bearing on early education of the child for marriage.

Mingle Freely
Constantly I have urged parents to help the growing child to mingle freely with others of his own age and to make the home a welcome place for his playmates and young friends. (My bulletin, "Your Child and His Playmates" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

The child who learns at two, six or ten to get on happily with boys or girls of his or her own age has had very useful education for marriage. Thus mingling with lots of other children of both sexes in these earlier years, he tends to mingle with many of them later.

The wider and longer this commingling without awareness of sex the better background for romance later and choice of a mate.

In the happy family with fine father-mother and parent-child relationships it is easy for the child to have his questions about sex answered by his parents and to acquire the kind of ideals favorable to happy, wholesome marriage and parenthood in himself by and by.

Believed Dead, Returns Home

Thought To Be Lost Or Killed In Action In World War I,
Returns Home

ROCKY FORD, Colo., June 13.—(INS)—George Gillispie of Rocky Ford is getting re-acquainted after 32 years with a nephew he believed had been killed in World War I.

Gillispie had not heard from his nephew, Peter J. Ramey fought in France during World War I. Ramey's family believed that he was lost or killed in action in France.

No word had been received from him until he knocked at Gillispie's door in Rocky Ford last week.

He told the Gillispies he remembered they had lived in Rocky Ford 30 years ago, and decided to call on them.

He learned from the Gillispies that a sister he has never seen lives in Los Angeles.

Eventually, of course, the furore died down and my friend thought it had ended with his promise to all complainants that they wouldn't do it again. But there was one more complaint.

Late that night the pressman, whose clothes had been thoroughly perfumed, called and sadly informed my friend:

The women's division, organized over the weekend, is composed largely of members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the hospital. The auxiliary, in addition to providing the campaign with a division of solicitors, has subscribed $15,000 to the fund.

Captains in the women's division are: Mrs. William L. Strawbridge, Mrs. Lena R. Frediani, Mrs. Jessie M. Stenger, Mrs. Simon M. Skole and Mrs. Ethel Slovinsky.

Eight Days Remain

Only eight days remain before the scheduled final report meeting of the campaign on June 21 with more than $200,000 to be raised to reach the $295,000 goal.

"That is the picture," said J. Preston Flaherty, general chairman of the campaign, today. "And it is one that should give concern to all who want to see this job done. It means a lot of hard work for all of us who have volunteered to see this No. 1 civic project through."

"More wishful thinking isn't going to bring our community the hospital services it needs. To get what we should have we've got to dig down into our pockets. There is nothing new about that either. New Castle people have been doing that for many years and they will be doing it for many years more. What New Castle is today is due chiefly to the vision, sweat and devotion of generations of citizens who never ran away from a civic challenge."

"We are not discouraged. On the contrary, we are confident that if everyone who is asked to contribute to this fund—to this great cause in our own backyard—will subscribe what we believe is his or her fair share, we will reach our objective."

Young Boy Admits Titusville Theft

TITUSVILLE, Pa., June 13.—(INS)—A 14-year-old boy, who admitted taking $35 from a needle-point bag containing $50,000 in jewelry, was in custody of juvenile court authorities today because suspicions were aroused when he bought a cowboy hat and a hunting knife.

The boy, whose name was not given by police, said he didn't take the jewelry because he "didn't want to get in any more trouble."

The blue and grey bag was recovered in a clump of bushes by a searching party several hours after it was stolen from the practice tee at the Titusville Country club Friday.

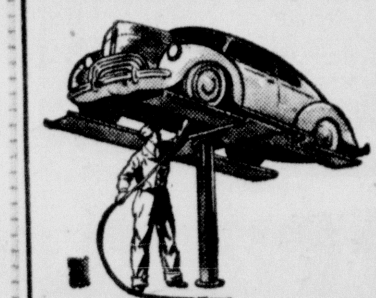

Its owner, Mrs. Walter H. Baker, a wealthy Steubenville widow, rewarded one of the searchers, a cadie, with $100 and gave six others $12 each.

Next Year's Census To Show 11,000,000 Persons Over 65

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 13.—Next year's census will show more than 11,000,000 Americans at age 65 or older, according to Dr. Louis I. Dublin, second vice-president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. This means that the proportion of the population at these ages will be nearly twice what it was in 1900, and that the actual number of persons in this age group will be almost four times what it was then.

The shift from a youthful to an aging population is attributed to the virtual shutting off of immigration, a long-range decline in the birth rate, and the lengthening of life which has come as a result of higher standards of health.

Prospects for Living Improve

"Not only are more people entering the threshold of old age," Dr. Dublin says, "but the prospect for living on has also improved. At 65 the expectation of life is now thirteen and two-thirds years, which is about two years greater than in 1900. Old age has become a period of considerable duration, which undoubtedly will be increased in the future."

In Dr. Dublin's opinion, provision for the economic and social welfare of our aged is becoming a major problem that will grow in years to come.

Haven For Truck Drivers Is Found

"Cookeville? That's my town, boy!" Hundreds of truckers who travel U. S. Route 70 are thus chorusing praise for this town of 10,000 population in eastern Kentucky. Reason: Cookeville is conducting a hospitality program to make truck drivers feel thoroughly at home.

Instigator of the program is Cookeville's Chief of Police Hubert Crawford. Certain areas are reparked and sleep all night in their trucks. Police cars patrol the area all night long. Hence drivers sleep without fear of hi-jacking. Dispatchers of trucking concerns operating out of points east and west of Cookeville schedule departures so their drivers may sleep there overnight. The special areas begin to fill up around 9 p. m. and are usually full by midnight. Drivers write car tickets, provided by the city, the hour they want to be awakened and city police awaken them at the designated time.

Do drivers appreciate the treat-

State Peach Crop Is Slightly Less

State Agriculture Department Estimates Pennsylvania's Peach Crop As Less Than '48

HARRISBURG, June 13.—(INS)—The State Agriculture department today estimated Pennsylvania's 1949 peach crop at 2,166,000 bushels slightly less than the 1948 crop but well above the average.

The department's estimate placed the crop at 16,000 bushels below that of last year but 246,000 bushels above average.

The department predicted that the 1949 cherry crop will reach 8,700 tons, topping last year's output by 1,300 tons and the average by 1,700 tons.

A federal-state survey showed that Pennsylvania's milk production during May was higher than during April but egg production was down slightly.

May milk output totaled 578,000,000 pounds, compared with 513,000,000 pounds in April and 545,000,000 pounds a year ago. Egg production totaled 294,000,000 eggs as compared to 312,000,000 in April and 307,000,000 in May, 1948.

Other crop estimates prepared by the department are: Oats, 29,050,000 bushels, down 96,000 bushels; barley, 4,788,000 bushels, up 855,000 bushels; pears, 330,000 bushels, up 75,000 bushels.

No estimates have been prepared on the 1949 apple crop, the department said.

Tuesday Is Flag Day! Some History Of Flag

Old Glory will wave from a million staffs on June 14—Flag Day. The birthday of the American flag commemorates the day in 1777 on which the Continental Congress passed a resolution adopting a flag having 13 alternating red and white stripes and a blue field with 13 stars.

Symbolic for all that it stands in the treasured American way of life, citizens of the nation see in the flag, our priceless freedom, the power of prestige of our country, and its demand for decency and honesty throughout the world. Not only do we see these things in our flag. For in its red stripes we see the blood of the heroic men who fought and bled to preserve it. In its white stripes we see the determination to preserve the liberty for which they stand. And in the blue stripes, we have the justice which America holds forth to every man.

There are many colorful legends surrounding the history of this national emblem. Who designed the original June 14, 1777 flag? How many names have been given to it?

Who Designed Flag?

Francis Hopkinson of Pennsylvania, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, is generally given credit for designing the flag. However, the classic tradition is Betsy Ross' flag of stars and stripes, supposedly sketched by George Washington, the first president of the United States, in 1776. Historically the 1777 flag with its 13 stars, 13 stripes, representing the original 13 colonies was redesignated to 15 stars and 15 stripes after Vermont and Kentucky had been admitted to the Union. Congress authorized the change in 1795. During the following 23 years it became apparent that many changes would have to be made, due to the fact that the flag's proportions and beauty were suffering with the added number of entering states.

In September, 1777, the Stars and Stripes was carried into battle by Washington's troops at the Battle of Brandywine, just prior to when British troops occupied Philadelphia.

At sea the Stars and Stripes first waved from the masthead of the Ranger under John Paul Jones, July 4, 1777.

"Star Spangled Banner" The second name to be given the American flag was the "Star Spangled Banner," immortalized by Francis Scott Key, when he wrote what is now our national anthem while being detained with the British fleet during the bombardment of Fort Mchenry during the war of 1812.

"Old Glory," the third name was applied by another sea captain, William Driver, of Salem, Mass. The old sea captain was referring to a flag that had been given to him by the ladies of the town on his birthday. As the flag reached the masthead, Captain Driver shouted with emotion: "I'll call her 'Old Glory'!"

Pennsylvania was the first state, and still is the only state to make Flag Day a legal or public holiday by act of its state legislature—passed on May 7, 1937.

Whether it be known as the Stars and Stripes or the Star Spangled Banner or Old Glory—this grand and glorious American flag—long may it wave!

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A man who had been very poor all his life made a fortune almost overnight and began to splurge in every direction at the same time. One of his greatest joys consisted in inviting old cronies up to see his sumptuous new estate. "Come up and see the grounds," he boasted to one of them. "I will show you my three swimming pools."

"Three swimming pools," echoed the friend. "Isn't that a bit excessive?"

"Not at all," the host answered. "One has cold water, one has hot water, and one has no water at all."

"One with cold water I can understand," conceded the guest. "I can even see a reason for one with hot water. But what's the idea of a swimming pool with no water at all?"

The host shook his head sadly. "You'd be surprised, Joe," he confided, "how many of my old friends can't swim."

Climbing All Over The Place

As soon as he begins to walk and sometimes even before, the young child is fascinated by climbing. The steps, the top of the table, chairs, the sofa—so many things seem to be a challenge to him.

Because of the fact that he may fall and hurt himself, many of us are fearful and cautious about his climbing. We try to discourage the youngster or even stop him when he starts putting himself up on top of something. Yet such activity is both normal and desirable. If we forbid it, muscular co-ordination may be hindered, an attitude of fearfulness be developed and a good deal of irritation be brought about.

As the youngster is learning, we should protect him against serious falls by being on hand so that we can step in and help if the going gets too difficult. It is important, however, to be as unobtrusive as possible and not constantly be warning him to be careful. As he learns to handle climbing situation of a simple sort, more difficult experiences can be made available. A series of packing boxes of different sizes, small ladders or even a backyard jungle gym will provide lots of climbing fun for him.

GARDEN NOTES

Curly Scotch kale, which is becoming increasingly popular as a green, can be planted from June to mid-July.

After potato plants come up do not work the soil any more than necessary to control weeds.

When the leaves of Swiss chard reach the size of spinach leaves they can be used. Chard can also be canned in the same manner as spinach.

As the early crop of peas or spinach is used up, put the same soil area to use again for growing winter turnips.

Edible soybeans are shelled like limas or peas, only they will be found to be more difficult to shell. Soaking them in very hot water for five minutes will help to loosen the pods.

Destroy by burning all prunings from fruit trees affected by fire blight as the bacteria which causes it is capable of remaining alive for several weeks or even months on diseased wood.

"N" FOR NITROGEN

COQUILLE, Ore. — (INS) — A huge green letter "N" on a Coquille hillside doesn't mean there's a college spirit around. It stands for "nitrogen." County extension people just wanted to dramatize the fertilizer's value to farmers so they sprinkled the nitrogen in a 30 x 50 feet "N". The nitrogen-fed grass grew taller than the grass which did not receive the fertilizer.

Milk Market Drops As Schools Close

School Lunch Programs Make Seasonal Market For Pennsylvania Dairymen

HARRISBURG, June 13.—(INS)—Pennsylvania dairymen lost a seasonable market for 8,500,000 quarts of milk with the closing of schools and the federal school lunch program.

The Pennsylvania Production and Marketing administration today said that during June which is National Dairy Month and the peak of the "flush season," farmers also lost a market for 316,000 pounds of cheese distributed through the lunch program.

The PMA asked school lunch officials and institutional superintendents to place their orders for fall delivery of milk, cheese and butter to hold the market for dairy products at a "good figure" until the hot weather reduces pastures to normal.

Meanwhile the U. S. Agriculture department assured farmers of a "definite intention to purchase milk throughout the month to prevent serious surplus conditions," according to John A. Smith, PMA secretary.

Problem Solved By 'Mechanical Brain'

LONDON, June 13.—(INS)—A problem which human minds are said to have wrestled with for 300 years was reported today solved in three weeks by a "mechanical brain."

The London Times said that the "brain," developed at the University of Manchester, just finished solving the problem, but didn't indicate what sort of stumper it was.

According to the Times, the problem was posed in the 17th century, and is now being completed via human calculation.

The newspaper said that the Manchester mechanical brain is closely akin in structure to a human brain, and has the capacity to store information.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(INS)—United States Savings Bonds are one of the most convenient media for systematic savings. By the same act, they also take out insurance against the inflationary pressures that would exist if the government had to finance its needs through bank-created credit.

Easy Employment Era Comes To End

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania State Employment Service advised job-seekers in the five-county Philadelphia area today that the "era of easy employment is ended."

The PSES reported that "job opportunities are markedly fewer and for those available more active competition exists than at any time since before the war."

Job offers to college graduates in the area are 30 to 75 per cent below last year, according to the PSES.

"Chances for girls," the report added, "are better than for boys." The PSES said there are 30,000 fewer persons employed now than at this time a year ago.

Unable To Attend School Due To Muscular Ailment, Youth Receives Diploma

PEKIN, Ill., June 13.—(INS)—Nineteen-year-old Donald Keith Conyers had his high school diploma—and academic honors—today although he hasn't attended school since the fifth grade.

The youth received a standing ovation from an audience of 5,000 attending Pekin community high school graduation exercises in Memorial Stadium.

Conyers has been unable to attend school since he suffered a muscular ailment when he was in the fifth grade and has received all his education since that time from tutors.

He was rolled onto the football field in a wheelchair by his father, Arthur, to receive his diploma.

Radar Sections Set Up In U.S.

Nation To Be Divided Into Eight Radar Sections To Guard Against Air Attack

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(INS)—A Nebraska congressman said today that the nation will be divided into eight radar-controlled sections to guard against surprise air attacks.

Rep. Miller (R) Neb., stated that this action will follow up a bill signed by President Truman last March to build "a radar fence around the United States."

Miller added that radar ships will be stationed off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts several hundred miles apart. He said:

"Radar screens will pick up enemy rockets, fighter planes and ships both on and below the water. Scientific devices will intercept and shoot down the planes and ships before they reach our coast line."

"This interception is swift and deadly. The enemy cannot go over or under or around radar, nor can he escape the devilish fires that will go straight and explode him wherever he might be in whatever weather."

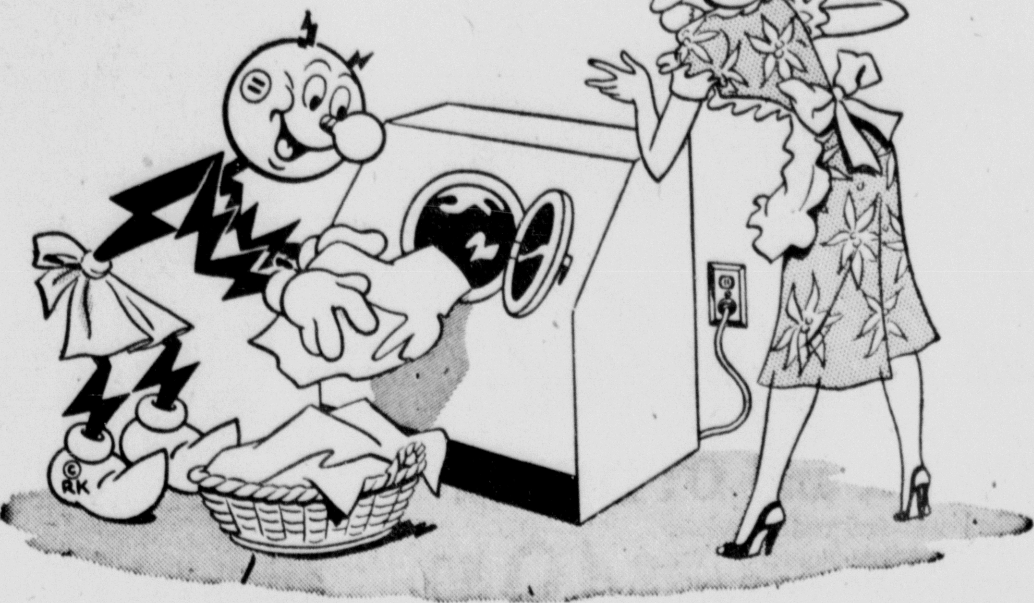

Miller did not give the source of his information. It was previously understood that in the event of war, the nation would be divided into 20 radar-controlled zones to increase chances of detection.

Cost of the project is estimated at 161 million dollars. Radar stations are also expected to be set up in Alaska, the Arctic regions of Canada, Greenland and on islands off the American coasts.

Most birds migrate under the cover of darkness. However, there are some that travel in the day, and these include ducks and geese, hawks, swallows, the nighthawk, and the chimney swift.

Anniversary Comes To Close Sunday At Plain Grove

Reunion Saturday And Communion Service Sunday Closes Sesqui-Centennial Event

Week long services commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Plain Grove Presbyterian church came to a conclusion over the week-end with services both Saturday and Sunday, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Fred Cochran.

Saturday proved to be a highly interesting day in the anniversary celebration, when a homecoming and reunion took place. Former church and Sunday school members were on hand to talk over bygone days in the church work. Numerous past Sunday school superintendents were present to help in the celebration. The dinner event of the program took place in the church basement, due to the threatening weather.

Addresses were given Saturday by Rev. F. Benton Shumaker of Brookville, Pa., Rev. Clarence Junken of Rev. E. Porter Williams, of Beaver. The entire day was a most enjoyable one.

Sunday, which brought to a close the anniversary, was observed in the morning by a communion service and baptism. Rev. Harry M. Campbell of Pittsburgh brought the closing address of the anniversary services.

The entire series of services in connection with the sesqui-centennial of the church has proved inspirational to the church and congregation and will be long remembered as an outstanding milestone in the church history.

KING GEORGE REVIEWS GUARD IN BIRTHDAY FETE

RIDING IN AN OPEN CARRIAGE, King George VI reviews his colorful brigade of guards in London during his "official birthday" celebration. Just behind the royal landau, astride their mounts, are Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Gloucester, the King's brother. The Princess all but stole the show when her horse became balky. As the steed backed and reared, the Princess proved herself a real horsewoman. She later received the congratulations of her father, whose actual birthday fell on December 14. SHEAR CHRISTMAS TREE PINES AFTER JUNE 15

As soon as early growth is completed on Christmas tree pines, usually about June 15, they may be sheared. Short-headed evergreens may be sheared in late June or July.

Shearing shapes up the trees and increases their market appeal. It should start when the trees are 3 to 4 feet high, and both terminal and lateral growth which is too great should be cut back.

Several Lawrence county growers regularly shear their trees. They find that little time is required, and the value of the trees is greatly increased.

METHOXYCHLOR URGED FOR DAIRY BARN USE
Because traces of DDT used for fly control on dairy animals and dairy barns have been found in milk, extension specialists from Pennsylvania State College urge that its use for these purposes be discontinued and that methoxychlor be used instead. DDT may still be used in chicken houses, pigeries, and other stables where dairy cows are not kept.

Several applications of methoxychlor may be needed during the summer for effective fly control, with the first at the start of the fly season, usually about July 1.

A 50 per cent wettable powder is the most satisfactory form of methoxychlor to use. For power sprayers the 50 per cent wettable powder should be used at the rate of 14 pounds to 40 gallons of water (the amount needed for the average-sized dairy barn and milk shed).

For small hand sprayers use 1½ pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder to 2½ gallons of water. Apply at least 5 gallons of this spray to 1,000 square feet of surface.

Before spraying any building, dust, dirt, and spider webs should be cleaned from ceilings and walls.

All feed, salt licks, water cups, and feed mangers should be covered with burlap bags or paper.

Apply the spray as a fine mist to inside walls, ceilings, supports, and stanchions for fly control in dairy barns. It is not necessary to spray the floors. Wet the surface until it is ready to drip. The more methoxychlor deposited on the surface, the longer it will last and the more effective it will be in killing flies. The material should be kept well agitated while spraying.

The 50 per cent wettable powder (1 pound in 12 gallons of water) is the only form of methoxychlor recommended for use on dairy cattle and beef cattle being fitted for slaughter. Cattle should be sprayed or washed with this material every two weeks during the summer. It will take about 1½ pints to 1 quart to wet each animal—at least 2 quarts per animal if a power sprayer is used. Spraying the animals at weekly intervals is necessary to get good control of the stable-fly.

Sanitation practices are the most important factor in fly control. Hence manure piles and other breeding places should be cleaned up. Several light applications of DDT around the manure pit and over the manure that cannot be removed, will help reduce the fly population.

INFORMAL HOME WEDDING

"My daughter expects to marry quietly at home. This will be her first wedding. What kind of clothes should she wear? May she wear formal street-length dress—a corsage or an arm bouquet? How should we arrange our home for the ceremony and how should she approach the altar?"

Answer: Regardless of the simplicity of her wedding, your daughter may dress as a bride if she wishes. If she does, she should carry an arm bouquet. However, if she prefers, she may wear street-length clothes. Of course, with this latter type of bridal attire, she may have only a maid or matron-of-honor and a best man—no bridesmaids.

Arrangement of room for ceremony: At one end of the room place an oblong table to be used as an improvised altar. At each end put tall white candles, flanking a low centerpiece of flowers. In front of this improvised altar, place either a pre dieu (if you have one) or instead, a white satin pillow on which the bridal couple may kneel side by side.

Choose the most attractive spot in the room for this improvised altar and behind it arrange floral decorations, such as palms, evergreen, huge sprays of flowers, etc., bearing in mind that this will be the focal point of interest in the room.

If expense is no object, you may rent from a florist small posts decorated with greens and flowers, to be used to mark an aisle from the doorway to the place of the ceremony—the path to be followed by the bridal party.

When everything is ready for the ceremony, one usher, if there are any, should escort the bride's and another usher should escort the bridegroom's mother to their places in the front line of guests (the bride's mother on the left and the bridegroom's on the right as usual). The clergyman, the bridegroom and the best man enter the room, proceed to the altar where they await the bride. The ushers go upstairs where the bridal party waits to start the processional which forms in the upstairs hall. At the first sound of the wedding march, the ushers, walking two by two come down the stairs; next come the bridesmaids (two by two); then the maid-of-honor (alone); last, the bride on the right arm of her father.

Members of the McClain Our Boys, a group of local men and their wives, who had a club on the South Side almost 50 years ago, had a reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ryan, of 918 Rose avenue, Saturday.

Following a sumptuous dinner, a business meeting was held, when Earl J. Riley was elected president to succeed George W. Thomas and Edward J. Ryan was named secretary and treasurer.

The club will meet again in Youngstown in September. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thomas of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones, of Warren, O., and Arthur Howell, of Ellwood City.

EILEEN WADLINGER WEDS JAMES DAILY

St. Mary's church was the scene of a lovely summer wedding on Thursday morning June 9, when Miss Eileen J. Wadlinger, daughter of Mrs. Edna R. Wadlinger, 26 North Mercer street, became the bride of James L. Daily, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Daily, 338 East Moody avenue.

Rev. Fr. Gallagher officiated at the single ring ceremony before an altar embanked with ferns and spring flowers.

The bride was charmingly attired in a white lace ballerina dress and wore a large white lace picture hat and long gloves to match. She wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

Her maid of honor was Miss Marjorie Nielson, who wore a pink lace dress and large picture hat fashioned in the same style as the bride's. Her hat and shoes were chartruse.

John T. Daily served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Richard Hagan, cousin of the bride, and Hugh Daily, brother of the groom. The boys' choir of St. Mary's church sang the "Ave Maria" mass. A congratulatory period followed in the vestibule of the church. Breakfast was served to the family and friends at the "Manse" in New Wilmington.

The bride and groom were honored at a reception which was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lester Levine, 512 Hillcrest avenue, in the afternoon and evening. The bride's table was beautifully decorated in pink and white and centered with a large cake.

Both are graduates of the New Castle Senior High school. Mrs. Daily is employed at the New Castle Drug company and Mr. Daily is employed on the B. & O. railroad, and a veteran of four years service in the U. S. Army, with three years in the Pacific theater.

The couple departed on a tour to Washington, D. C., New York, Boston and other points of interest in the New England states. Upon their return they plan to reside in the Penn apartments.

The bride has been feted with a number of pre-nuptial showers and has received an array of lovely gifts for her home. The wedding rehearsal dinner for the bride and groom was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Joseph F. Varley, of 428 East Leasure avenue.

VICTORIA COMPARONE HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Mary Castrucci, of 208 West Madison avenue, maid of honor to be, was the charming hostess Saturday evening at a pre-nuptial shower party honoring Miss Victoria Comparone, a bride-elect of this week.

Games were played early in the evening, and prizes were captured by Elizabeth Taylor, Mrs. Mildred Sgro, Victoria Comparone, and Albena Ciffrumbolo. Highlighting the evening was a treasure hunt for Miss Comparone, the gifts being hid throughout the house. Ringing alarm clocks were clues as to where the gifts were hidden.

At a later hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch at a table beautifully arranged, the shower motif predominating. Sprinklers filled with yellow and white mums were the table centerpiece. Paper wedding bells hung from the chandeliers and balloons were on the table and when pierced contained the news, "Vicky-Angelo, June 16, 1949." Miniature gay colored sprinklers were the favors that marked each place. The hostess' mother and sister were aides at the table: Mrs. Joseph Castrucci and Mrs. Edward Rainey.

An altar was cleverly arranged by the hostess, and the miniature bride, bridegroom and preacher were made out of eggs, formally attired as in a bridal party.

The honored guest was the recipient of many lovely gifts from her friends.

Miss Comparone is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comparone, 1209 South Jefferson street, and will become the bride of Angelo Landolfi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Camillo Landolfi, 523 Division avenue, Ellwood City.

The open church ceremony will be performed in St. Vitus church, June 16, at 9 a.m., the double ring ceremony to be used.

EAST BROOK CLUB PLANS PILGRIMAGE

Members of the East Brook Garden club held a luncheon meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. E. B. Kennedy, New Wilmington. Mrs. John Robinson was co-hostess.

The most important business of the evening was the formation of plans for a pilgrimage on June 27. They will visit an old Harmonite settlement at Ambridge, Pa., where they will view the interesting antiquated garden and other points of interest there.

During the meeting, Mrs. M. M. Ingham gave an impressive talk on "My Experience With Roses" and Mrs. Frank Albion spoke interestingly on "Wild Flowers".

Roll call response was the quotation of an excerpt from gardening experts. A report of the Garden Council workshop which was held June 1 at Trinity Episcopal church was given by Mrs. Frank Albion.

Following the club's pilgrimage on June 27 they will enjoy a luncheon at the Broadhead hotel in Beaver Falls.

Section 7, Y. L. B. Class

Mrs. Connie Sines of Warren avenue, was hostess on Friday evening to members of Section 7, Y. L. B. class of Third U. P. church. The business session was in charge of leader of the month, Mrs. Olive Zeigler, who also conducted the devotional period.

Plans were made for a quilting session next week at the home of Mrs. Mary Sines of East Washington street.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess, with Mrs. Zeigler as her aid. The home was nicely decorated with flowers. Social guest was Mrs. Lucy Pettit.

Dodgers-Yankees Clinging To Lead

Dodgers Set Scoring Record For Year, Indians Defeat Yanks Twice

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 13.—Brooklyn and the New York Yankees, the two major league leaders, held the major league spotlight today—the Dodgers through offensive power and the Yanks for sudden lack of it.

Brooklyn set a big league high scoring mark for the year in walloping Cincinnati 20 to 7. A ten-run rally in the fifth inning featured the Dodgers' triumph, their seventh straight.

Indians Win Two
The Yankees were blanked for the first time in 113 consecutive games when Cleveland's Bob Lemon held them to six hits and beat them 6 to 0 in the first game of a twin bill.

The American league leaders continued their weak stickwork in the nightcap, in which Mike Garcia held them to three hits and beat them 3 to 1.

The second-place Detroit Tigers advanced to within three games of the Yanks with two wins over Washington, 9 to 0 and 6 to 5.

Boston's Red Sox advanced to fourth place, passing the Senators, by defeating the Chicago White Sox twice, 15 to 3 and 7 to 5.

Philadelphia's Athletics broke even with the St. Louis Browns. The Browns won the opener, 6 to 4, and the A's took a 13 to 10 nightcap.

Cards-Phils Split

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals lost ground in the National league race when they split two with the Phillies, and now trail Brooklyn by two full games. The Cards took the opener 7 to 3. Two homers by Andy Seminick, who also hit one in the first game, won the nightcap for the Phils 8 to 3.

Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs split a double-header, 6-2 and 2-0. A homer by Ralph Kiner, his 14th of the year, gave Pittsburgh a 6 to 5 win over the New York Giants.

AVERTS BURGLARY

Patrolman Edward Kovach averted a robbery at the Boyles Coal company, Neal street, Saturday night. He heard glass being broken and when he investigated saw two men fleeing in an auto, lights out, and found the glass in a window of the plant broken.

New Mexico exceeds in size all states except Texas, California and Montana.

Net Queen

SELECTED Miss Tennis Queen of New Jersey, Barbara Buttery, 17-year-old high school girl of Roselle, N. J., gathers herself a few racquets to go with her title. She will reign at the diamond jubilee of the New Jersey State Men's Tennis Championships at Elizabeth from June 8 to June 16. (International)

HEAVY HITTING GAME

West Pittsburg, City league leaders, and Lawrence Indies hit the ball hard for 25 hits at West Pittsburg, the latter winning, 13-9, Sunday. A. Markey and Mrozek joined the "I hit a home run club." In fact, Markey hit the longest home run ever made at West Pittsburg in the fifth with a runner on the paths. A. Magusiak and Adams poked extra-base hits. Rhodes, Savage, Micholjko, and Zedick pitched for the losers, but Atisano went the distance for the winners. Score by innings: R. H. E. Law. Indies 002 105 010—9 12 4 W. SHAMROCKS WIN

The East Side Shamrocks got revenge on the South Side Aces yesterday, winning behind Gabby Kendra 7 to 3. The Rocks recently lost to the Aces 5 to 3. Bailey and Hawkins were the batting stars.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TROUT will be stocked in both Big Run and Slippery Rock creeks today . . . Only two nights remain until the City League All-Stars, a "pretty fair" club opposes the Indianapolis-Clowns, at Flaherty Memorial field. Probably the largest crowd of the season will see the setto, which was won by the Clowns in 1948. . . . Attorney "Peg" Thomas, ex-Ne-Ca-Hi gragger of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting relatives here. . . . Herbert Churchill, Nats' twirler, among those who, before the Jack Rossier baseball school at Cocoa, Fla., closed, received an award as "the most valuable pitcher". He's quite a tenor, also. . . . An adult bald eagle, mighty winged individual, symbol of our country's independence, has an average length of 2½ feet and a wing spread of seven feet. . . . Mountain laurel is the state flower. It is a broad, dense shrub that grows from five to ten feet high. . . . In Ryantown district, far are talking of "getting up" a petition which will ask President Len Gilbert of the City league to shorten the suspension of Larry Logue, banned for one year. . . . They claim the offense, he allegedly committed, was to bat, when ordered by his manager, and to blacklist him for an entire year is excessive. . . . Some fans would like to see All-Stars from both City and County league play the Nats. Such a setto would draw a big gate.

Vito Mangine, former lightweight, looks as young as when he was giving and taking punches in Jolly bowl with Jerry Fleming, Rochester, N. Y., June 16, in Cleveland. . . . Cecil Suber and Bill Carlin will take to North Bay, July 10, to fish. . . . Bill Vecek is no bad prognosticator, having said last winter Steve Gromek, rather than Feller, Lemon or Bearden would lead the 1949 Indians hurling staff. He would be leading the A. L. today if his team-mates had come through with runs. . . . Clint Hodgins, third leading money-winning harness race driver last year, with $138,182, has brought to U. S. tracks, a Canadian cousin, 22-year-old Dalton Hodgins, to act as his second trainer. . . . The Steelers have signed Pete Barbolak, burly, six-foot-three, 230-pound tackle, who starred at Purdue. He was ranked as one of the best linemen in the Big Ten. . . . Andy Puchany, Canonsburg, received the 1949 Balfour award at Indiana U for wrestling. He was responsible for Indiana's only individual Wrestling championship. . . . The Union Civics, tail-enders in the City league have won only two games, upsetting eighth place St. Margarets and seventh place Ryantown, up to Thursday evening. . . . Gabby Hartnett, remembered as the catcher-manager of the Chi-Cubs, scored a 702 series in his Chicago alleys. The ABC will be held at Columbus, O., in 1950. It was held there in 1933 and 1942.

More than 8,000 fans will ride excursion trains to and from the Cleveland-New York, Sunday tilts at Cleveland. . . . Vito Mangine, former lightweight, looks as young as when he was giving and taking punches in Jolly bowl bouts. . . . Johnny Lazo is rounding into good condition for his bout with Jerry Fleming, Rochester, N. Y., June 16, in Cleveland. . . . Cecil Suber and Bill Carlin will motor to North Bay, July 10, to fish. . . . Bill Vecek is no bad prognosticator, having said last winter Steve Gromek, rather than Feller, Lemon or Bearden would lead the 1949 Indians hurling staff. He would be leading the A. L. today if his team-mates had come through with runs. . . . Clint Hodgins, third leading money-winning harness race driver last year, with $138,182, has brought to U. S. tracks, a Canadian cousin, 22-year-old Dalton Hodgins, to act as his second trainer. . . . First day of Toledo's Fort Miami trots and paces, begins Saturday. . . . The Steelers have signed Pete Barbolak, a burly, six-foot-three, 230-pound tackle, who starred at Purdue. He was ranked as one of the best linemen in the Big Ten. . . . Reports Holdup To City Police Ford L. Allen, R. D. 2, told city police at 2:15 a. m. Sunday that three men attacked and robbed him of $103, and a Bulova 21-jewel watch in a lot at Moravia and Home streets.

He said he met a man named "Walker" who asked him to ride with him to the Colored Elks. "Walker" got out of his car, and said he was going to the club. Allen got out of the car and was attacked by a trio. He was knocked down and robbed, he stated.

Playing Pilot

Buster Haywood, one of the smartest and fleetest catchers in the Negro American league, is this season's pilot of the nationally famous Indianapolis Clowns and will be at the reins when the NAL "showmen" and "baseball wizards" take to Flaherty field June 15 against the fast City All-Stars.

Haywood enjoyed his greatest diamond thrill when in 1941 he helped the funmakers, then known as the Ethiopian Clowns, capture the Denver national semi-pro tournament championship against the top teams of the nation, and was awarded a valuable wrist watch as the "most valuable player" in the entire tournament. Many ex-major league stars of organized baseball vied for this award which Haywood won as the standout performer.

HOLLYWOOD, June 13.—(INS)—The marriage of actress Ellen Drew and writer-producer Cy Bartlett appeared today to be heading for a final breakup after surviving several separations and an interlocutory divorce that was nullified by a reconciliation. The actress said her attorney will sue for divorce in Superior Court on Thursday. The couple was married in August, 1941.

Three Cars Are Damaged In Crash

Three cars were damaged in a crash at the junction of old and new routes 422, at 5:45 p. m. Sunday, according to state police. However, no persons were injured in the accident.

The report William May, Youngstown, was driving north on old Route 422, stopped for the Stop sign, allowed one car to pass, then started upon new Route 422. His car was struck by that of Melvin Carroudis, Baden, driving west on new Route 422.

The impact drove May's car against the car of John Warluff, Louisville, Ohio, who was on the north side of old Route 422, waiting to cross the new highway.

Flags Should Be Displayed Tuesday

In commemoration of national flag day and marking of the 172nd anniversary of the date of the adoption by the Continental Congress of the U. S. of the first flag of our nation, American flags should be flown in the city and county on Tuesday.

In connection with the event, Mayor John F. Haven has given the ladies of the former G. A. R. permission to sell flags on the day of the event. The women will be stationed at strategic locations in the downtown section of the city.

East Side Library Branch Is Closed

Due to repairs and redecorations now in progress at the East Side library branch, the branch will not be open on Tuesday—its regular day.

However, the library will be opened on Friday of this week—the second day of its regular schedule, according to Miss Alice Sterling, librarian.

Baby Injured In Fall From Steps

John Werhnyak, Jr., aged 3 years, little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Werhnyak, of 1063 Adams street, suffered a concussion, and possible fracture of the skull, when he fell down two steps at his home, striking his head on the cement sidewalk, Saturday evening.

He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was admitted for treatment.

CHILD CUTS FOREHEAD

Edward Dalton, aged 15 months, of 217 Fairfield avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8 p. m., Saturday, for a laceration of the forehead when he fell while carrying a glass, which broke.

The custom of wearing a black band on the coat sleeve in token of mourning originated in England. It was introduced for liveried servants, whom it was not considered necessary to fit out in black uniforms.

Two Are Held For Hospital Conduct

Because they threatened a physician at the Jameson Memorial hospital early Sunday morning where they went for treatment, William Robertson, East street, and William Regan, not yet 17, of Pearson street, were in jail today.

They were arrested at the hospital on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Robertson was fined $100 and costs by Mayor John F. Haven, with the alternative of spending 30 days in jail.

Chief of Police Robert Hanna swore to charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct against Regan at the office of Alderman J. C. Kennedy.

No date has been set for his hearing as yet.

It appears Robertson was engaged in a fight and received injuries about the face and went to the hospital with Regan, for attention and they both became disorderly.

Nats Top Youngstown 9-6, Lose 12-9, Play Two More Tonight

Wagner And Bucchioni Will Pitch For Nats

New Castle and Youngstown will square off tonight at Flaherty Memorial Field in another twin-bill, the first game starting at 7 o'clock.

Yesterday the two teams played a ding-dong double-bill, New Castle winning the first game 9 to 6, the Youngstown Athletics coming back in the second game to get a 12 to 9 decision.

It wasn't exactly a pitchers' paradise yesterday, as both teams used a combined total of 10 choppers in the two contests. The ultimate winners were Herb Churchill in the first game, and Wayne Shelar in the night-cap. Bobby Gardner for Youngstown and Mike Giardullo for New Castle had firemen jobs in both games.

Wagner and Bucchioni
Manager Billy Mongiello announced today that the veteran Frank Wagner will go after his eighth win tonight in the first game and that the Nats other veteran Felix Bucchioni will go to the hill for the second game.

The split yesterday, as Erie defeated Vandergrift gave the Youngstown team a tie for first place. The Athletics had a chance to be the league leaders had they won both.

Kiel Hits 4th Homer
Herman Kiel, the Nats first sacker hit his fourth homer since joining the club, his smash with two men on came in the sixth inning of the first game. Bob Betz of Youngstown got a "jackpot" homer in the big fifth inning rally of the second game for Youngstown, and Eddie Morgan the Athletic manager potted a homer in the first inning of the first game with one man aboard.

General Manager Mike Cannavino of Erie was an interested spectator at the twin-bill yesterday and said that a few changes will be made in the Nats lineup. "We definitely need some help at a few vital spots," Cannavino said.

Then It Happened

Until that big Youngstown fifth inning second game rally (nine runs) it looked as if the Nats were on their way to a double-killing of the league leaders, but it wasn't in the books that way. It was the second and last inning for New Castle, and only had two errors in the games yesterday, one in each game.

Walter Franiak continued his sensational fielding in left for New Castle, catching five well tagged liners for the afternoon without a bobble. Herman Kiel continues to guard the first sack like a veteran, gong errorless since assuming that position.

Alex Medich of Duquesne, Pa., a big strapping 6 foot 2 205-pound right-hand pitcher, is reporting to Manager Mongiello today. Medich is now with the Duquesne Zemps, a semi-pro team, and is reportedly a crackerjack hurler. He is expected to give the pitching staff a much needed lift. Medich is 22 years old and a former All-American basketball star at Duquesne High. He was recommended to New Castle by Tex Riffel of McKeesport, who staged the NBC tourney here two years ago.

White Sox Suspend Outfielder Scala

CHICAGO, June 13.—(INS)—Chicago White Sox outfielder Gerry Scala was under indefinite suspension today for getting his directions mixed up.

Scala was supposed to have reported to the Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast League but was suspended without pay by General Manager Frank Lane. Lane had announced Scala's option to the Oaks as part of the deal which would bring outfielder George Metkovich to the Sox.

The suspended player, Lane explained, failed to give a satisfactory explanation of why he went to his home in Bayonne, N. J., instead of the coast.

Midget Auto Racer Dies Of Injuries

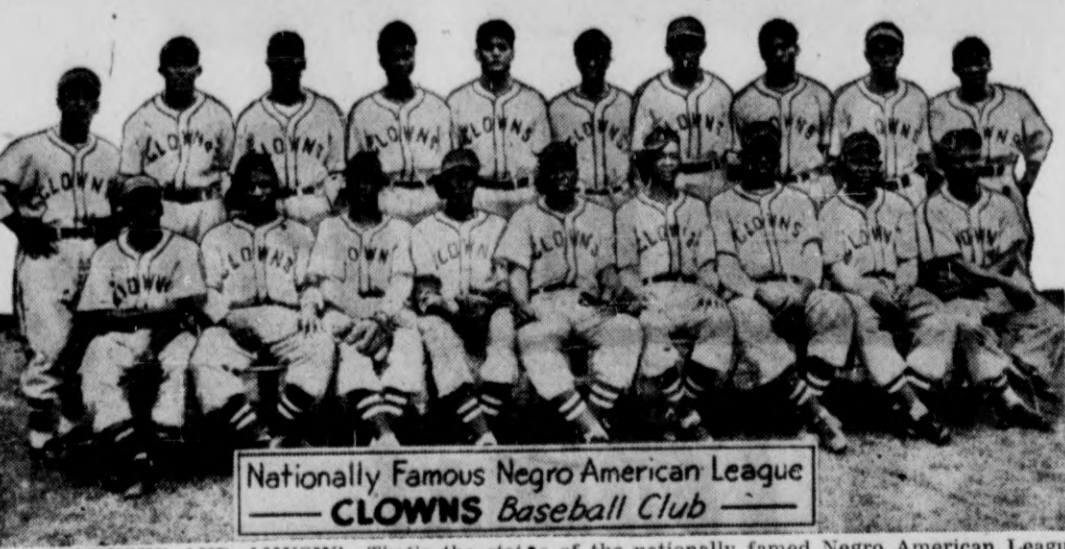

LANGHORNE, Pa., June 13.—(INS)—Midget auto racer Ken Koenig, 36, was killed yesterday before the eyes of 20,000 spectators when his vehicle upset on Langhorne speedway.

The mishap occurred just before the start of the 150-mile national midget championship event.

Koenig's tiny car sideswiped another racer and turned over.

The Palmyra, N. J., racer suffered a broken neck as he was hurled from his machine.

Rex Barney's and Bob Lemon's no-hitters in 1948 were both pitched at night and wound up with identical scores, 2 to 0.

CONFUSIN' AND AMUSIN'—That's the stuff of the nationally famed Negro American League Indianapolis Clowns, shown above, who make their initial appearance of the 1949 season at Flaherty Field in a night game on Wednesday, when they cross bats with the popular City League All-Stars at 8:15 p. m. The original Clown diamonders and zanies of the baseball world have displayed exhibitions of both comedy and major league calibre baseball that has endeared them to the hearts of fans throughout the nation. Their natural diamond ability and fact they convulse their audience with roars of laughter and amusement, has paid off in big dividends, and fans locally are going to witness many amusement performances when they see the Clowns in action.

Smiley To Hurl Against Clowns

Pitcher For West Pittsburgh, City Loop Leaders, To Pitch Wednesday

Only two nights remain until the City Loop's All-Stars clash with the Indianapolis Clowns who won the 1948 game at Flaherty Memorial field 6-4. Manager DeMonaco and his assistants expect their Stars to give the Clowns stiff opposition, regardless of who twirls for the Clowns at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday.

When the managers of the City circuit clubs voted for players they honestly believed to be the "cream" of the league, hence when Wednesday night arrives, the circuit will be represented by a very "good" team.

Bo Smiley, West Pittsburgh, will start on the mound for the All-Stars. West Pittsburgh is leading the league. Cook of Croton, Snow of Frank's Grille, D. Orlando of Ecclesiast, Attisano of West of Pittsburgh and Savage of the Lawrence Indies will be held in reserve.

Kearns at first and Stoltica at third are looked upon as two of the best players in the loop and if the coming game is anything like the game played one year ago, fans will have been fully appeased.

Comedy and Class

Manager DeMonaco, who will be aided by Huck Davies of Universal (1948 manager), Henry Rico of Croton and Jim Rote of Frank's Grille have decided the starting team will be as follows:

Catcher, Evenoski; pitcher, Smiley; shortstop, Black; first baseman, Kearns; second baseman, Kozela; third baseman, Stoltica, and outfielders, Markey, Fazzone and N. Robinson.

Among the aggregation are some good stickers and the outer garden will be patrolled by fleet-footed youngsters who are fighting to make their way up the baseball ladder.

The Clowns have a good team. They intermix classy baseball with comedy. Among the stars is Tatum, called Goose, who has the longest reach in baseball, 84 inches. King Tut, Spec Behop and Juggling the Taylor are only a few in the Clowns lineup who will please fans Wednesday night.

BOMBERS TOP ELLWOOD

The DeCarbo Bombers went to Ellwood City Sunday and defeated the strong Oasis team 13 to 8, at Ewing Park. Conglose, Fl Augustine and Spanish did the hurling, and gave up 11 hits. Sammy Calazza and Phil Richards did some heavy hitting of the ball for the Bombers, having four hits apiece. Tonight the Bombers play the Blackhaws at Gaston Park in a loop game.

Local Legion Downs East Palestine 7-6

New Castle's undefeated Junior Legion League entry racked up victory number three at East Palestine Sunday. The locals defeated the East Palestine Juniors 7 to 6.

Gene Franks allowed only three East Palestine hits but gave up eight walks to keep himself in trouble most of the way.

Giorgiolo led the New Castle 12-hit attack with three blows.

Three singles, a hit batsman and a double by Sansone were combined in the big sixth for four runs. New Castle added the winning marker in the top of the seventh.
